If this was your child that was assaulted you would want justice,,, This truck is described as a 2003-2006 Chevrolet either light tan or gold in color and has a silver plated diamond tool box on the back,, The brick was thrown from the truck after a fight between a group of young men and two older men , It is believed that the two incidents were related and we need help to identify the operator of this truck.. Li happened just up frm the bank of America n woonsocket on dimond hill road,, The brick was a gray paving or walk way tyoe brick so it was not something that was picked up of the ground unless someone had this in there yd near the scene.. Please repost this as soon as possible and help.. If you know someone who lives near there or may have been traveling on the road at that time or operates a business that may have captured this on video p;lease come forward.. Thank you
