

Rhode Island Cases Involving Assault With Intent to Murder / Armed Assault With Intent to Murder (Recent Public Reports)

This summary lists several publicly reported Rhode Island cases where charges included 'assault with intent to murder' or 'armed assault with intent to murder'. Rhode Island does not publish a single statewide list of these cases, so the entries below come from public reporting and indictments. Layout has been simplified for readability.

Luis Roman

City: Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2021

Incident: Allegedly fired a rifle at a Providence police officer responding to a domestic call.

Outcome: Sentenced in 2023 to 70 years total, with 30 years to serve.

Kenneth Jackson

City: East Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2023

Incident: Accused of striking a 74-year-old man with a hammer in a shopping plaza parking lot.

Outcome: Case pending in Providence County Superior Court.

Wesny Clairsainvil

City: Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2023

Incident: Family stabbing incident involving multiple victims; charges included murder and assault with intent to murder.

Outcome: Case pending.

Enrique Miranda

City: Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2023

Incident: Drive-by shooting on Interstate 95 targeting another vehicle.

Outcome: Case pending.

Jarvon Brown

City: Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2023

Incident: Co-defendant in the Interstate 95 shooting investigation.

Outcome: Case pending.

Valdini Correia

City: East Providence

Approx. Offense Year: 2024

Incident: Stabbing at a convenience store that left the victim seriously injured.

Outcome: Case pending.